Our mission and philosophy

Greta's was born from a desire to offer busy Copenhageners great and healthy food that is as respectful and kind towards our bodies as it is to the planet. We prepare all our food fresh every day and spread joy and well-being with our delicious, creative and filling meals.

Our menus are inspired by the multicultural roots of our founder Greta and her husband as well as our multinational team. We also don't shy away from using old family recipes from grannies, aunts and uncles in India, Mexico and Austria, so keep a look out for those specials! Many of our dishes are either vegan or vegetarian, but we believe that everything in life is about balance and enjoyment, that's why we also serve some amazing dishes for all the meat lovers out there.

The vast majority of the vegetables and fruit we use to create our dishes are organically grown and sourced locally, right here in Denmark. We don't stop there though; whenever possible we use "ugly" and surplus fruit and vegetables, because we think food waste makes no sense – at all. All our animal products come from animals with the absolutely highest welfare standards and are exclusively Danish and organic.

We have one principle that guides us in everything we do, and that is to reduce our environmental footprint. We've made a commitment to always make the most sustainable choice that we can make, and this extends much further than just the way we source our produce. Our mission is to be the most sustainable healthy fast food restaurant out there and to inspire others to follow our lead. That's why we take great care in the selection of the raw material used to furnish our lovely restaurant, the produce we serve and the packaging we serve it in.
